GENERAL RULES

- Entry forms & fees due by July 31st, 2017 (postmarked), unless otherwise noted. The Association reserves the right to accept or reject entries as may be needed to insure a complete show without overtaxing our exhibition space. Horse shows, goat shows, and flower & vegetable shows allow day of show entries.
- The entries must be made in the name of the actual growers, producers, or owners. Exhibitors are required to make themselves acquainted with the prize list and be sure in what sections and departments their entries belong.
- Exhibitors will not be allowed to sell goods during the fair unless they buy a privilege for the same. The Fair will retain a 20% commission on all sales.
- The Board of Directors of the Monroe County Fair and Recreation Association, Inc., reserves the right to postpone the Fair on account of the weather or other causes and in event of such postponement, the words, "The Last Day of the Fair," published in this catalog, shall be construed to mean the last day to which the Fair is postponed.
- All protests must be in writing, must state plainly the cause of complaint or appeal and must be delivered to the Board of Directors within 24 hours after the event or award.
- No exhibitor shall receive more than (2) awards in any one class.
- The Fair reserves the right to combine classes if fewer than 3 entries shown by 2 exhibitors are received for a class.
- All animals must be accompanied by registration and health papers, which must be presented when requested by the Management. See the "Animal Health Requirements" document for species-specific requirements.
- All livestock and poultry must be bona fide property of the exhibitor and must have been owned by him/her for at least thirty days preceding the opening day. All exhibitors should be prepared to furnish an affidavit of such ownership on request of the judge or superintendent.
- The ages of all animals must be given and satisfactory evidence furnished if required. To determine in what division the animals shall be entered, ages will be computed as stated in the rules of the respective show department book.
- Feed or bedding for livestock will not be furnished by the Association, except as indicated in show department rules.
- This Association or other Fair sponsors assume no responsibility in case of loss or damage to stock or other exhibits for any cause and upon this condition only are entries received. The Association does not assume any liability for personal injury or accident from any cause whatsoever.

- All exhibits must be on display before the gates open on the opening day except where indicated in department rules. Any exhibits not then in place may be excluded from competition for premiums at the option of the department superintendent.
- All exhibits must remain on display until 5pm on Sunday, closing day of the Fair, except where otherwise specified. Exhibitors violating this provision will not be allowed to exhibit at future fairs and will forfeit premiums awarded on exhibits.
- No animals, other than those entered in shows, are allowed on the fairgrounds.

Entry Fees and Admissions

- Entry fees are specified in department rules. Classes where no entry fee is required are accepted with no other requirement.
- No entries accepted unless listed in this book, but classes may be sub-divided, if necessary.
- Articles erroneously entered or placed in wrong classes will be barred from competition, except that where exhibits have been erroneously entered, the judges may have the same corrected by the superintendent before they judge that class, but not after.
- The Fair reserves to itself the right to refuse or to cancel any entries, disqualify exhibitors, curtail or prohibit exhibitions of entries, and to cancel awards of prizes, as may be deemed necessary or expedient. All entries must be made and are received subject to this rule. Entry fees are not refundable for any reason.
- There is no admission fee for the 2017 fair, so admission tickets will not be given to or sold to exhibitors.

Awarding Premiums

- As far as possible, the single judge system will rule and care will be taken to select only those who are qualified. No person will be allowed to act as judge who is in any way interested in the article to be examined.
- Judges will receive their books from the Department Superintendents and when the judging is completed, the books must be returned to the Fair Office at once. For time of judging, see the department rules.
- Premium awards will be indicated as follows: First Premium, by Blue Ribbon, Second Premium, by Red Ribbon, Third Premium, by Yellow Ribbon.
- In no case will judges award a prize where there is no merit, and in the event of a premium being withheld from any exhibit for that reason, the judge will write "Not Worthy" in the award column opposite each entry. In case there is no competition in a class, it will be awarded a premium according to the merit of the article or animal, such as first, second or third, as in their judgment, the article or animal deserves.
- Judges must not award prizes to any exhibit to which the entry tag is not attached (except livestock). They must exclude from competition the exhibit of any person, who in any way, whether in person or by his/her agents, interferes with them, during their adjudication or shows disrespect to them or who violates any rule or regulation of the Association. Any exhibitor who violates this rule will thereby forfeit all premiums in the section being judged at the time of such violation.
- Judges or Clerks will be careful to attach tags denoting first, second or third premium to exhibits, make their awards and be especially careful that tag and corresponding entry in Judge's Book agree.
- When the judges have reason to doubt the pedigree of any animal or the representations made of an article, they must report at once to the Superintendent of that department who will gather such evidence and report same to the Fair Office.
- No person or persons will be allowed to interfere with the judges in the discharge of their duties. Persons wishing to explain in regard to their exhibits can do so through the Superintendent of that department.
- The decisions of the judges shall be final in all cases, except where mistakes, frauds or misrepresentations are shown. In such cases, the Superintendent or such referee as the Superintendent may select, shall decide.
- All premium ribbons must be displayed during the exhibition. No person can make any change or withdraw any article entered for competition or exhibition after having once entered it. No entry fee refunded.

- Competition is defined as a contest for supremacy between two or more products or articles or animals owned by separate exhibitors. Exhibitors having no competition in a class or section will be awarded premiums based on the exhibit's individual merit, unless otherwise noted under Special Department Rules and all premiums shall be awarded subject to action of the Board of Directors.
- All trucks, trailers, campers and cars must be parked in an area designated by the Fair management. There is a camping fee.
- Open class winners will receive their premium checks by mail.
- As the Association is required by law to make an early detailed report to the State Agricultural Department, all checks issued for premiums must be presented for payment on or before 30 days from date of issue.
- Any entry fee checks that are returned for insufficient funds will be charged an additional bank fee and no premium check will be issued to that exhibitor until all remedies are made.
